

GTMailPlus.Continuity

Provides an auxiliary email client for the continuity of vessel operations

To ensure that you always have access to your emails, even if your systems are offline, GTMaritime have added Continuity as standard to GTMailPlus. Accessible from anywhere, you will be able to send and retrieve your emails during any interruption in the shipboard email capability, allowing your business to continue uninterrupted. Continuity is a webmail-based service hosted within GTMaritime's cloud infrastructure, with the length of storage based on your Archiving settings.

Why do I need Continuity?

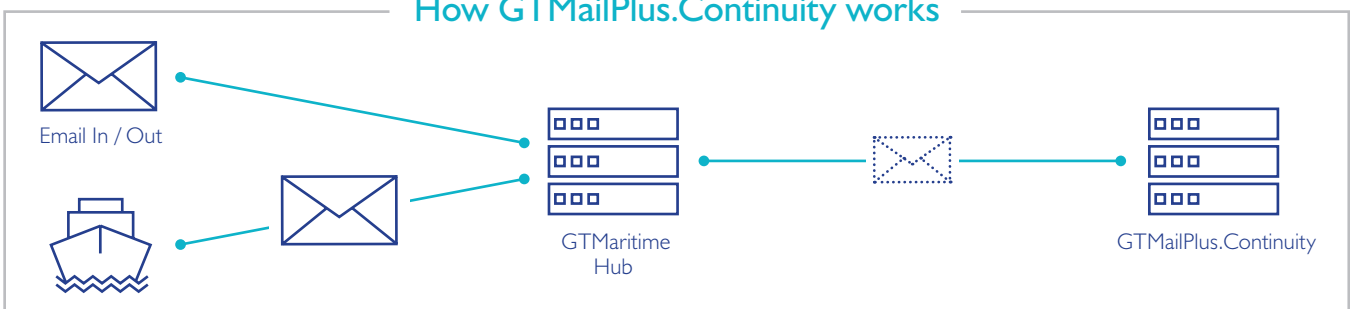

In today's digital world access to email is critical to keeping your business running. With Continuity provided by GTMailPlus you can access your emails even if your system is unexpectedly offline, allowing you to operate your ship's business on or off the vessel to recover emails and continue business as usual.

“ More than half of companies (54%) experienced a downtime event that lasted more than 8 hours – one full work day – in the past five years.”
